NO EMPLOYMENT FOR LABOR.

Portland has always suffered from a sere allef on the part of its property-owners and ore "forehanded" citizens that it never was become to make any to mak eccessary to push any undertaking to establish industries here, but that it was all sufficient to ait down and wait for things to come about of themselves. This policy of waiting has been simply tried. One of the results is the words. To Let." posted all over Portland and East main of the number of vacant business houses;

Why are there so many vacant houses? The Why are there so many vacchit house? The simple reason is that there is nothing here for workingmen to do, and rents, though remarking the former rates, are yet too righ. People who come to Portland want stay, because they can't find employment. Even those who seek employment here it common labor seldom get it, and for skilled there there is not they no chance. Men can't there have the self-our periods. ther there is not tively no chance. Hen can't May where there s no work to be had. Fami-Hee ran's live in a place where there is no way of earning a living. There would seem to be no remore why there should not be ere long an other thousand warant houses here.

and an effect of the bothargy of the country. If people could find work here the fact would make the addition of many thousands to the novelation of this city. This would signify a population of the city. This would signify a much larger volume of business of all kinds. In-creased consumption would make a market for agricultural products, and those who have fruits, regetables, means and dairy products to sell would no longer find their situation hopeless. There will be no growth here to amount to any-thing till labor has a charge. There will be no more specialitie "bound," for there is nothing to build them on. People who come here must attract buyers. To the goods produced else-where and offered for sale here we add nothing a market. Meanwhile, the country is full of sar, and so hold back. With any kind of man-gement and moderate capital tanneries would a very successful, but cent-per-cent skill presents too many attractions. Perhaps we ough with money than to lend it on note and mort-

When the attitude and spirit of this city are understood it is not surprising that we have the ill-will of the country. The relations between Portland and the country ought to be reciprocal and mutually helpful, and they are so to an ax-tent, but on the other hand they are shamefully our-vided. Candor compets the admission that Portland has not dealt rightly with the country. It is the proper function of a city to be the source of supply and the market for the country tributary to it. Portland has been a source of tributary to it. Fordland has been a source of supply but she has never been in any other than a limited and retail sense, a market. The interior has been compelled to buy from us but we have never bought in a general way, from it in return. Wheat alone has found a sure market here, and that chiefly at the bands of foreign companies clump hashess here. For general products duling business here. For general products there has never been certain sale, and for the most part, no sale at all. The complaint of the coun-try that Portland has sat at the gate and de-manded tell and that she has never afforded advantages of market in return, is too true. This sort of policy never yet built ap a great city and it will not do so here. Portland will never pros-per greatly ill she becomes a market. If she expects to sell to the country she must be prepared to buy from the country. This she could do if she could fill up her vacant houses with people and build and fill up more; and this would be possible if labor could find employment so that men and families would be attracted by the could find the country of the country of the country of the country of the country and the country and country and country are could find the country and country and country are could find the country and country and country are contracted to the country and country are country and country and country are country. exacted here and kept here. But when they know they can get no employment who can en pect them to come? And those now here, find-ing no employment, who can expect them to

The conviction of M. F. Cuiver, formerly a constable at East Portland, of malicious prose-cution, ought to be a warning to the officers of minor courts, who very eften prey upon the community instead of protecting it. Culver is a very dirty scrub who "worked" his potty office a very only event who "worked" his perty office-of constable for "all there was in it," neglect-ing no means, honest or otherwise, to haske profit. His contemptible practices, of which, the case reported this morning is a sample, put-him in such discredit that he was beaten when he appeared for re-election; but he "fixed things" in a way which makes a certain Essi Portisand issues court his way private property. He uses this court and the poor ignorance who holds a commission as justice of the peace, to pursue and annoy the community in any and every way which affords a cowardly channe for dishonest gain.

Not only are individuals annoyed and justice

outraged, but the cappty is heavily taxed to sun port the workings of Culver and others of his sart. Suits are brought with no other object than to run up biles of cosm and these the county has to pay. The public treasury has been in the past and still is being rubbed infomonely in this way. A system which permits such abuses is, of course, sadly faulty. It is the daily of the legal fraternity and of the judiciary to devise a better system for submission to the STREET-RAILWAY PROFITS, No other class of labor in the United States is to severely taxed in the matter of working hours as that in the street railway service, and yet no bind of property page better returns, generally speaking, than street railway lines. A Chicago paper declares the share-heiding capital of d.e West Division Hallroad Company, which has re-cently bad trouble with its operatives, is $8,000. COO, and its annual earnings are reported to 'e too, and its suncar earnings are reported to 'es Do per can. On account of its great prosperity, the price of its shares has risen from par, [81] to $425. It operates lines on four streets, Van Euren, Madison, Bandolph and Lake. Its aggregate length does not exceed twenty-four miles of track, laid in streets stready graded, with the cars and bornes required by the service. with the cars and horses required by the service, are certainly not worth five millions of do lars. The greater part of the capital is artificial and consists of the franchise, which originally cost bothing. In order to earn dividends on this large artificial capital, the passenger rate in legit at double the figure which would be sufficient if only a fair interest were demanded upon the value of the actual property. There is some thing wrong here, and in course of time it will

The principles existathed by the celebrated "Granger" lemaiona ought to apply to skeet rativities, no matter what mistakes were made at the beginning by unconditioned grants, made without conception of their value or of the power which they afford to monopolists.

CRUSADE AGAINST IMPURE MILK.

Mr. W. W. Eaker, the state dairy commisant, W. Estar, the state daily commis-sioner, has begun a crusade against ut-clean daries near this city. He is determined that Portland shall be supplied with wholesome milk or no milk at all. Some of the "milk ranches" near Portland are hours to desire of fifth and the milk thet-comes from them car not be otherwise than impure. A few phose have always been well kept, others have been improved by recent order of the commissioner, but a few remain vile at ever. Upon them, Mr. Baker proposes ing trib. to-lay. wherewith it has been regrestfully designated for some time past. It is clearly making some effort \(\phi \) be bonest, but has not per mer with more than partial success. It cosm't now city from sestern and other journals as much from eastern and other journals as much "news" as it formerly did, nor raise so many dates under pretense that the matter comes to it by telegraph; but it has not yet wholly abandoned the habit. Yesterday ignin it had a number of begus dispatches under "raised dates," the staff being a week alt, or more. Still, it is fair to say as that it cut the dates out of a number of tange which, except for exposure of its ways, would have been run as "pecials," with lifted dates, as formerly. Perhups however the borns tournal is delor as bups, however, the bogus journal is doing as well as it can. It is hard to reform all at once n victous habit, lopp persisted in.

There is talk once more of resunting opera-tions at the abandoned salmon hatchery on Clacksman river. Doubt, however, is expressed by fishermen whether the salmon wanted for the cannertee—the real Chineck—ever ascend bat stream, and whether therfore a Clarkamas hatchery will be of any real service in stocking the Columbia silver. The varieties of salmon are many, and the habits of each variety is peculiar. Sometimes there is liste apparent difference between varieties; and yet it is heliered estimon that ron into Chekannes river would ever ron into the upper Columbia and into its affluents above the Willamette. The securities of the Mexican Central tailroad are held chiefly in Boston. The Beruid of that city ease the thrinkage of these stocks and the loss to Boston holders within the first week after tue forced loan was decreed by President Diaz, was $10,002,300. Portland's "inspators" in Transcontinental extend their sympathies.

The bogus curnal exclaims: "We deny the right of The Chegonian to file charges." Neveri seless, brethren, you'll have to stand it till you quit trying to put off on the public as news transmitted to you by telegraph old stuff clipped from exchanges and presented with raised dates, to deceive the public.

Extracts from Miss C eveland's book, given by eastern papers, show that the matter is state and communities. Most of it is the joid sluft of seases and lectures which nobody would read when t first appeared, and is now again offered for sale solely because of the author's position.

One of the Iown editors writes: "I am of pialon that a man can make $100 leasier in pregon or Washington territory than in Iown." Perhal s this is the reason why he doesn't make it here. He tainks it hardly worth while,

BOGUS JOURNALISM IN SAN PRANCISCO.

San Francisco Chronicie.

There are two papers in this city which insuit this interlige are of their readers by autting out dispatches from castern lewespapers, dating them as fresh news of the day. This system, of course, vitiates all the telegraphic news printed by these papers, as without reference to other journals one frequently enmost citi what is gonuine news and what is reprint. Ditce, however, the special dispatches of the Chronicle reveal this fraud. Thus, for instance, in one of these evening sheets withe fedims to be a newspaper there was a short dispatch yes terlay which purported to come from Camden, N. J., and was been ed. "Shocking C telly to a Wife." It told of the borroits treatment of a mulato woman, by a negrowith whom she lived. It San Francisco Chronicie. meant to the stories which it selesors out of easter newspapers. But nothing honest can be expected of journals conducted on the principle that it cheaper to steal news than to pay for it.

go away. It is impossible for them to stay. Under conditions now existing. Portland is likely to take on more and more the distracter of a retail town. There is nothing here to at-tract labor, and in consequence the population a market. Meanwhile, the country is full of natural resources of all kinds. Here are the raw materials of almost every leading industry. But it doesn't suit the Oregon temperement to use them. Profits are thought to be tru remote, as the Indians here in early days would not plant potatoes; or, if they did plant, would dig them up within a week, and eat them, skylog that the new crop was a long way off and they couldn't short to wait for it and take the risk.

DID NOT FIND MICA.—Captain George Carter, who has been in the employ of fite 0 E. & N. Co. and its predecessor for the past quarter of a century, has just esturned from a trip to New Mexico, where he want to hunt up a nites mine about which some one had told him. He found the ledge, which is a mile long sindest feet wide, but it proved to be grpeom; he a form which much resembles mica—a sort of casar, plassy-looking crystal, sometimes called isingless. It was not what he wanted, and was too far from the railroad to be of any value. Captain Carter explored the wont section of country in the Un on. He says it looks as if it had been stood on end, and as the intersegnetic was up to 120 degrees and he had to be opposeding in drawens, and undershirt, and carry a ride for protection, he concluded to come back to Oregon. He thinks that if he had found a good mica mine, where plates It inches square could be got out, his fortune yould have been made. The value of mica depends upon the vize of the plates into which it can be up? The dead body of the new ord "Alene country, which may prove valuable some time.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

HE HAD LOTE OF TROUBLE —One of the most perplexed and worried young men seen in town, for a long line was the young fellow who are dericos to drive a cow and calf down Third street last evening en route to Athina. The cow would not follow the calf, not the calf the cow. Every dog which came along was pursued by the cow which would lesp on the sidewalk and fall down. A zore of people took a hand in helping the boy, but they soon lired and left him to wrestle alone with his troublesome charges. He was about worn out by the time he reached Adder street and considered that he was in a "bad row of stumps" and vowed he would never uncertake such a lob again.

The subject of school journals was discussed by Professor Crawford "We call this business of teaching a profession and how many take educational journals? We ought to acquaint ourselves with the educational writers of the day Mr 6 recommended that all teachers take the bi-monthly journal of Hon. Thomus Mickell, a magazine of great worth and replete with education as it should be treated. Superirtendent McElroy supplemented Mr Crawford's remarks by stating that of all the journals published in this country, the bi monthly, published by Mr Hicknell, was presummently the best. "Mr Bicknell is one of our foremest educators, and lies writings can be read and reliebed by anyone He is a grand worker, and should be supported by all teach ere."
